Description of Business

Up to May 2015 the Company was a natural resource company engaged in the acquisition and exploration of exploration and evaluation assets ("mineral properties"). Following the acquisition of BDI, the Company will be engaged in commercializing a proprietary pathogen detection technology for the food safety testing industry and the in vitro diagnostics testing industry. The Company trades on the TSX Venture Exchange (the "Exchange") under the symbol WEY.

Overview

The past fiscal year has been an incredibly challenging year for many companies. The downgrade of the US credit rating, the continuing European debt crisis and the slowing growth in China and the US has greatly affected junior companies. Raising capital to progress projects has proven to be very difficult in the economic climate of the past fiscal year. In order to survive this trench many junior mining companies have taken the strategy of looking into projects in technology, oil and gas, health care and other sectors where returns have been superior to mining. This is the strategy that Wolfeye has adopted.

Corporate Changes

On June 4, 2014, the Company announced that Allen Ambrose and Stephen Brohman have resigned from the board of directors of the Company and Kris Kottmeier has resigned from his position as president and CEO of the Company. The Company also announced that Nizar Bharmal and Yari Nieken have been appointed to the board of directors of the Company. In addition, Nizar Bharmal was also appointed as president and CEO of the Company.

On August 7, 2015, the Board of Directors appointed Zula Kropivnitski as a CFO of the Company and Christopher Cherry resigned as CFO for the Company.

BDI agreement

On November 17, 2015, the Company entered into a definitive share exchange agreement to acquire all of the issued and outstanding securities of Bionomics Diagnostics Inc. (“BDI”), an arms’ length private British Columbia corporation operating in the biomedical device space. The shareholders of BDI will receive 17,000,000 common shares in the capital of Wolfeye (the “Wolfeye Shares”) in exchange for the common shares of BDI (the “BDI Shares”) at a deemed price of $0.25 per share (the “Share Exchange”) on a pro-rata basis. Following the share exchange, the Company will be engaged in commercializing a proprietary pathogen detection technology for the food safety testing industry and the in vitro diagnostics testing industry.

In connection with the Acquisition, the Company will undertake a financing for gross proceeds of not less than $1.2-million of units consisting of one common share and one warrant at $0.25 per unit. During the year ended March 31, 2016 the Company advanced BDI $25,000 as a non-interest bearing loan toward BDI's transaction expenses, which is refundable if the parties agree to terminate the transaction or regulatory authority does not permit the transaction to proceed.

In connection with the Acquisition, the Company will issue 3,000,000 stock options at a price of $0.25 per option exercisable for a period of five years from the date of closing. Following the share exchange, the Company will be engaged in commercializing a proprietary pathogen detection technology for the food safety testing industry and the in vitro diagnostics testing industry.

The completion of the Acquisition is subject to material conditions precedent to be fulfilled, including due diligence, the negotiation and execution of a definitive agreement and TSX-V approval following the execution of the Interim Agreement. After entering into a definitive agreement, should the Company not proceed with the transaction contemplated, the Company shall pay a break fee of $25,000, which may be satisfied by off-setting such break fee from the $25,000 deposit.

Financial Instruments and Risk Management

Fair Values

The fair values of cash, receivables, short-term loan and trade payables approximate their book values because of the short-term nature of these instruments.

(a) Financial Risk Management

The Board of Directors has overall responsibility for the establishment and oversight of the Company's risk management framework. The Company considers the fluctuations of financial markets and seeks to minimize potential adverse effects on financial performance.

(b) Financial Instrument Risk Exposure

The Company is exposed in varying degrees to a variety of financial instrument related risks. The Board approves and monitors the risk management process.

Credit Risk
Credit risk is the risk of a financial loss to the Company if counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligation. The Company's exposure to credit risk includes cash and receivables. The Company reduces its credit risk by maintaining its bank accounts at large international financial institutions. The Company's receivables consist of tax receivables due from federal government agencies and a short term loan. The maximum exposure to credit risk is equal to the fair value or carrying value of the financial assets.

Liquidity Risk
Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meet its obligations as they become due. The Company's ability to continue as a going concern is dependent on management's ability to raise required funding through future equity issuances. The Company manages its liquidity risk by forecasting cash flows from operations and anticipating any investing and financing activities. Management and the Board of Directors are actively involved in the review, planning and approval of significant expenditures and commitments.

Market risk
Market risk is the risk of loss that may arise from changes in market factors such as interest rates, foreign exchange rates, and commodity and equity prices. Such fluctuations may be significant.

(a) Interest rate risk
The Company has cash balances and no interest-bearing debt. The Company's current policy is to invest excess cash in investment-grade short-term deposit certificates issued by its banking institutions. The Company periodically monitors the investments it makes and is satisfied with the credit ratings of its banks.

(b) Foreign currency risk
The Company is not exposed to foreign currency risk on fluctuations in exchange rates.

(c) Price risk
The Company is exposed to price risk with respect to commodity and equity prices. Equity price risk is defined as the potential adverse impact on the Company's earnings due to movements in individual equity prices or general movements in the level of the stock market. Commodity price risk is defined as the potential adverse impact on earnings and economic value due to commodity price movements and volatilities. The Company closely monitors commodity prices, individual equity movements and the stock market to determine the appropriate course of action to be taken by the Company.

Risks and Uncertainties

Wolfeye is active in the biotechnology industry, which means it is exposed to a number of risks. There is a financial risk as the continuing operations of the Company are dependent upon its ability to continue to raise adequate financing and to commence profitable operations in the future. The Company has incurred operating losses since its inception and has experienced negative operating cash flows.

The Company is dependent upon its current management and if the services of such personnel were withdrawn for any reason, this could have a material adverse impact on the Company's operating activities.

Contingencies

The Company is not aware of any contingencies or pending legal proceedings as of August 29, 2016.
